

HFE Human Factors and Ergonomics Namibia Newsletter

The month of Mining in Namibia

Advances in human factors within the mining sector are reshaping both safety and operational excellence.

Modern safety cultures now emphasise empowering workers, ongoing training, strong communication, and psychosocial well-being.

Management involvement and worker engagement — through safety committees, transparent reporting and efficient feedback loops — drive rapid hazard identification and organisational learning.

Contact us to assist with gap analysis for operating procedures versus task execution!
